“ Lil Sellers was a wonderful lady with a wonderful husband and family. She was so very kind to me and I was fortunate to share a few months of family time with her family during my college years. Lil was an excellent typist and typed many of my college papers, gave suggestions on how to make the paper better and always encouraged me in my studies. She was a great cook and enjoyed the holidays where all her kids and grandkids came home. Her body failed her toward the end and she is in a better place but her 90 years were filled with family, friends and love. Lil...may you Rest In Peace and may your family know they have my sincere sympathies.
