After the loss of her mother at birth, she was raised by her father, Walter, stepmother Emma Carillon (nee Southwood) and her beloved Aunt, Mabelle Ross (nee Carillon).

Vivian married her loving husband of 66 years, James Ernest Barth, on July 21, 1940. She is survived by her three sons, Ross Barth (Jean Shannon), Thomas Barth, William Barth; 10 grandchildren, Ellen Barth, Glenn Barth (Victoria), Carolyn McCall (Jason), Christine Barth, William Barth, Jr. (Kristin), Colleen Del Balso (Joseph), Jennifer Armstrong (Rodney), Michelle Bujikowski, Denise Mooney; 18 great-grandchildren, niece Linda (Richard) Craft and nephew Craig Barth. Vivian and her husband James were longtime members of Northeast Yacht Club in Cleveland, where they made many lifelong friendships, celebrated many occasions, and enjoyed their treasured boat, the "Wahoo." She had a loving and artistic soul which poured out in every aspect of her life. Vivian enjoyed tending to her beautiful backyard garden, loved drawing, painting, ceramics, decorating and was an accomplished seamstress. Although she had many talents, Vivian took the most pride in gathering her family and sharing her love of cooking.

A private family service will be held and Vivian will be laid to rest at Lakeview Cemetery in Cleveland. In lieu of flowers, donations be made in Vivian Barth's memory to Hospice of Western Reserve.

“ Chuck and I send our love and sympathies to a wonderful family whose matriarch made that happen. She was sweet and God gave her 100 years to share her love to so many. May she rest once again in the arms of her love in God's home.
