“ Dear Loree Albright and Nicholas Lehman,
Please accept my most sincere expression of sympathy for the lost of your son. While we have never met your son, he has touched our lives. My daughters, were the two young women that stopped in Mentor that night, called 911, checked Andy's condition and stayed with him until help arrived. You have been in their thoughts and prayers ever since. My daughters wish to convey their feelings of remorse. Please know that they would have liked to have attended the service, but I talked them out of attending. I explained that the service may have not been the time or place to explain how they came to know him. If at anytime you wish to contact them or to speak with them, you may contact me via my email address and I shall make the arrangements with them, per your request. As one parent to another I have absolutely no idea of your pain and grief, I can only guess. And I am at a loss for any words that might bring comfort. But, please know that we pray for you and for your son.
Regards,

“ My children & I were so sorry to hear about Andy. When he was one of my After Care students at Phillips, he was always a little mischeivous, but also one of my favorites.

Your whole family is in our prayers.

“ Nick,
I wish you and your family my sincere and heartfelt condolences. To loose a Son , especially one as wonderful as Andy, must be one of the hardest things in life to deal with. It is clear that God has summoned him for a higher purpose. God will support you and strengthen you in this time of pain. Caroline, Nathaniel and I will pray for you and your Family.

In sympathy, Cahal

“ There will come a day
when your tears of sorrow will softly flow into tears of remembrance...
and your heart will begin to heal itself...
and grieving will be interrupted by episodes of joy...
and you will hear the whisper of hope.
There will come a day
when you will welcome the tears of remembrance...
as a sunshower of the soul...
a turning of the tide...
a promise of peace.
There will come a day when you will...
go on believing...
and treasure the tears of remembering.

*You will be in our thoughts and prayers in this time of grief.
With Deepest sympathy, Janine, John, Samantha and Allison*

“ Nick & family,

I am very sorry to hear about Andy's passing. As a former co-worker of Nick's, I know he was your pride and joy. Be comforted in the knowledge that he is in God's care, and that you will be with him again some day.

*Sincerely,
Dave Aldrup*

“ Loree & Nick,

We have known Andy since he was 5 and he was always one of those kids that you knew could do anything. His smile was beautiful and he was always respectful and kind. Know that the Phillips Osborne and NDCL community grieves with you. We are comforted knowing that he is with Jesus.

Please let us know if you need anything.

“ I didn't know Andy personally but my daughter, Alyssa, was in his homeroom this year and was his Chemistry lab partner all last year. I recall her saying she felt Andy would be the President of the US someday or he would be the one to find a cure for cancer. He was always a great help to her, always had a smile on his face and was, in her words, "a genius". In 1983, I watched my own parents bury my 5 year old sister. I know all the years of suffering and sadness they have gone through. I can't begin to feel your pain but I do know that the love and support of friends, family and God will help you through these times. I will pray for you all at this very sad time but know that God will not leave your side, now, or ever. In sympathy,
