“ Scott, I find it hard to bring myself to sign this book sometimes. I still cant believe that you are gone. The girls ask about you often even though they know that you are no longer here on earth physically they ask me if your in my heart. Alexa says Mommy God will let Scott see you again. I miss you you were a part of my life for so long, which now is empty. Your always in my thoughts. I love you.

“ Words cannot epitomize
The love I found within your eyes,
The richness of your voice
and hand,
Your ability to take command,
When all was amiss and out of sorts,
You cheered us on like the best of sports,
Kept my eyes from tearing up
And whelped me like a little pup,
From the strangers and
dangers,
And those who'd harangue,
The imposters and monsters,
Who'd just as soon see me
hang.
For loving you
Was easy enough for me,
And I'd do it again
With certainty
And the assurance of knowing
That our love was growing
And that you never lied...
To me. I love you always,
Robin

“ Scott, I feel this is the only way besides praying that I can talk to you, I feel I let you down after you asked me to marry you and I said yes but never called you back because I was confused, afraid and had to make up my mind, I know now that if me and the kids would have moved in your tiny apartment like you wanted us to that you would still be around today having something to look forward to and the love you had for my kids always kept you going besides the wonderful and true love that we shared, I can never forget nor will I ever be with another man again, I will wait until we meet again in heaven and then I will put my arms around you and never ever let you go. I am so sorry that I wasn't at your funeral, nobody and I mean nobody called me and the way I found out that you were gone after finding us a house was extremely horrifying. You are the love of my life, you are my sunshine, the breath I take, the love I share with my children, you are the one that has kept me going all these years, god oh god I wish you were here, I am so upset that I can't stop crying, god Scott I love you so much and just don't know how I will go on without you in my life, you made me and the kids the happiest we have ever been in our lives, after I move tomorrow I will watch all our home video's especially our Christmas video's and the one where you played mr. fix it while fixing my son Nicks dresser and when I taped you practicing golf, you were so funny but so loving, I can't and don't know how to let you go, I just want you back, but I have to go now because I can't stop crying, you are my LIFE Scott, forever

“ Scott, I love you more than anything in the world, in September you asked me to be your wife and I said yes I would be over joyed that it's all I ever wanted, I loved you like no other, the love we shared was a love you don't find anymore, you promised me in September that you wouldn't harm yourself but now today I go to your work and find out that your dead and someone there gave me the newspaper clipping out of your toolbox. Oh my god, I can't believe this, I love you and need you so badly, you will remain the only love in my life until the day I die. why Scott, why?? you were my sunshine, my entire life and my children love you more than anything, little Amanda is going to be devistated, god I wish you could come back to us!!! I love you Scott! Mr. and Mrs. Clark, your son asked me to marry him this past September and I told him as soon as I could get out of where I was living that we would get married and he wanted to have a baby with me, he was the best father my children ever had, he made all our lives so happy and now he's gone and i'm so sorry for all of our lose, please contact me at 440 942-2817 I need to speak with you, please.

“ To the parents of Scotty...
Scotty was in a relationship with my mom for like 5 years.
Her name is Theresa, Scott was the love of her life, and we actually just found out what happend today when we went up to his work. She was going to try and get him back, because he told her in September of 05 that he wanted to marry her... Scott was the only father I have ever had, the only one guy my mom has been with that treated me like his own daughter... I love him and I am going to miss him very very much....

Laura~

“ Scott,sparky missing you everyday!!! I still can\`t believe you are gone....You are forever in my thoughts and in my heart. You touched soo many people in many different ways that you left an imprint that can not be erased. I wrote your name in the sky but the wind blew it away...I wrote your name in the sand but the waves washed it away....I wrote your name in my heart and forever it will stay. You were such a great friend, and I know I will never stop missing you, there will always be an emptiness in my heart.Love always,Tracyrippy “ Words cannot describe the emptiness in our hearts. Scott, you were family to all 4 of us. The kids thought you were the funniest when you would use different voices. We enjoyed sharing our house with you when you needed it. We enjoyed helping you, talking to you and being your friend. You were a special person with a gift of a soft and compassionate heart. A true friend like you comes once in a lifetime. You will always be in our prayers.

“ Dear Mr. and Mrs. Clark:

Words can't capture how shocked I was today to hear of the world's loss and I can't imagine how deep your grief must be. I wanted you to know that I cared very much for Scott and love and cherish the memories I have since he was 5 and I was 7 and we first met and became friends. You were the greatest of parents and did so much for him. I know he loved you so much for that. Please feel free to call me and say hello, and I will always have a fond place for Scott, both of you, and his grandmother. May the love and peace of God be with you and I know that Scott is there with you now. There is a better place, and I wish so much I could be there tomorrow to tell you this in person. Warmest wishes and my very deepest sympathy.....
