“ My family lived next to the Perekstas in Euclid, Ohio for decades. My mother, Helen, my sister, Terri, and I were all shocked to hear of Chuckie's passing. We will all remember him fondly by that nickname because he was a sweet guy and much loved, so long ago.

“ Chuck was one of the most warm-hearted and generous-spirited people I have ever known. We were all privileged to have been a part of his life; I consider I lucked out by being one of his many cousins.

I will never forget his sunniness and his humor. He could walk into a room and immediately sense what each person there needed â€“ from a little attention, to some gentle encouragement, to simply a good laugh â€“ and with no hesitation he would give it to them. I know he endeared himself to many people through his gift of warmth and generosity.

He left us far too soon. But while he was here, he was an example: He showed us all how it was done. It seems to me that one way we might keep Chuckâ€™s memory alive is to bring some of his sensitivity and kindness into our own day-to-day dealings with the world. It would be a fitting memorial to someone who gave so much.
