“ I'm so sorry for your loss. I worked with Char the last several years and we still share funny memories from our time with her. Char was a very kind, funny, generous person in her personal life and at work. she had a quick wit and loved good food, we all enjoyed a lot of laughs and closeness as coworkers. Nothing was as important to Char as her family and her religion. I know she suffered a lot over the past several years both physically and in grief, but she always kept a smile and her hair was always in place. she will be missed.
