“ Dear family, In 1962 my first job was at Sterling Lindner Davis. For several months I was on 'squad' floating around to all departments. Then, I was assigned to the Bridal Salon and worked for Grace. I clearly remember her! She was a great business woman with a wonderful sense of humor. The other sales lady in the department was Olga Armour. She, too, was a wonderful mentor. I learned a lot from Grace and Olga. One other thing, Grace was always concerned about my schooling and would let me do my homework in her office when business was slow. I extend my sympathies to you all on the loss of Grace. You'll all be in my prayers.
