“ I like to extend my sympathies towards Juanita and the rest of the Miller family and friends.

What can one say in light of the loss of one of the funniest teller of tales that ever graced the planet. Words fail to describe the vacuum that I'm sure we all feel in our hearts by his departing. The friendship he extended and from all the Miller's for that matter towards my family and myself can never be fully recounted â€“ let alone repaid.

Our earthly treasures are not afforded us when we move on from this world. Little of what we toil for is of lasting value. Much of what we consider wealth is no more permanent than the frail piece of paper which documents its value. Perhaps the greatest irony in this, the physical realm, is that true wealth is intangible. My experience on this globe was made all the richer for having known Jim Miller. He made me laugh out loud on days when I felt like crying. He made me laugh out loud to the point where I couldn't help but get joyfully teary-eyed. Those memoriesâ€¦ Those memories are worth more than I could ever hope to afford. Such treasure have I been blessed to acquire. Such treasure will remain with me always â€“ Even beyond earthly confines.

Thank you Jim Miller, you were more giving than you likely ever knew.
