“ Hey Dad, Me again. Even now you have to listen to me over and over again.
My love to talk even when no one is listening was something I got from you.
The service with military honors was just beautiful. Art did the readings, Matthew and John brought up the gifts to Father during Mass. I have never been so proud of my boys and my husband as I was today when they joined together with Larry, George and John M. to take you to your final resting place next to mom. Dad you will be missed. I will continue to pass on to my boys all that you have taught me. Some day I hope they will be as proud of me as I will always be of you.
God Bless you with eternal rest. All my love, Del

“ Uncle Jr,
You gave this family the gift of laughter and many of us the key to take that spirit through the rest of our lives. For that you are truly missed, but likewise owed a great deal of gratitude. We're sure that as you join Aunt Lou and Cousin Helen your smile is as big as ever. To our family and friends, we have been truly blessed to be part of his life. Keep the laughter alive every day, JR would want it that way.

“ PaPa,
I was the lucky one, i got to spend evey moment with you over the last year. We shared a couple of your hobbies. We made wine, we planted way too many flowers. I will never forget playing Jeopardy together. Tell mom i miss her. Let helen know that i know she is keeping her promise of looking over me. love always bub

“ John,
Thank you for the greatest gift you could have ever given me, your daughter, Della. May you be in heaven right now with your wife, Margaret and your daughter, Helen.

“ My dearest Daddy,
*May God bless you the way you and Mom blessed the lives of all your daughters.
I know that now you are in heaven sitting with Mom and Helen on lawn chairs, outside, shooting the breeze with a large cup of coffee in your hands. Save me a seat as some day I will see you again. All my love, Della*
