“ Hey Grammy,

Your birthday just passed last week and we miss you so much. Ally and I got our noses pierced and mom said you would be so mad. Sorry about that, midlife crisis for me. I just wanted to say that we miss you so much. It is so hard around the holidays without you here and I would love to hear you yelling at me to quit biting my nails and pull my shirt up to not show my boobies, LOL. Love you nana. Things have never been the same since God took you home. Love you and miss you more than words can say. Love you nana!! Until we meet again... Love Renee

“ My deepest and most heartfelt sympathy to family; She was a most cherished and loving mother, sister, sister-in-law, grandmother and friend. She was a faithful and joyous addition to every event and always made us all laugh. Oh how she loved to laugh! She will be sorely missed.

“ *Nana,
I am devastated. I do not know words that can express my my heart feels right now. You left too soon, It was so unexpected, the only comfort I find is in the fact that you are with Grandpa now and that you went in peace. You have taught me so much. I keep going over all of our memories in my head, you taught me how to write in cursive, how to always stay in the lines when coloring, how to crochet. When you used to pick me up from school we would always sing "A tisk it a task it a green and yellow basket". You made sure I practiced the little bit of Italian you taught me. You always made me laugh with your stories and sense of humor. You never let me forget when I smacked you when sleeping over and it made us all giggle every time. I just hope I can be as great of a woman as you were. You and Grandpa had the love of a lifetime, something so special. I will miss you everyday and I pray you know how much you meant to me.*

I Love you Nana, now and forever.

*Love,
Amanda*
