“ We were saddened to hear about Kathleen's death. I will forever remember her delightfully acerbic wit, and her love for her family and of life. May you find peace and happiness in your memories of her.

“ To the Rhamy family: You have my heartfelt sympathy for the loss of your mother, sister and grandmother. There aren't any words that can ease your pain at this time. Remember, the Lord comforts his people and will have pity on those who suffer. Isaiah 49:13.

“ How does one comment about probably my first childhood friend? She was always so quick! And here I’ve been sitting, words not coming, but wanting to share our loss; The last time I phoned she was still her delightful old self, there, but trapped. But I’m glad, she also seemed blissful; the harder part was for the rest of you. I’m convinced that sickness is also for us to be ready to let go, not wanting loved ones to suffer more! I am only glad for her that she is now at peace in the fullness of life. I am more convinced that there is a heaven, because lovers want to be with their loved ones forever, and there wouldn’t be such a universal desire if there weren’t some reason for it. As she must have always wanted, knowing that God loves each one different as they are, as a good mother should: I too wish for her family God’s best, for eternity, that they know they are loved and continue to love one another. My prayer: that your Mom/ Gram now with God keep seeing that God take care of you all as she always wanted! Let’s put into our lives more of her good!

Grateful prayers, Sr. Lois
