“ I know that Kathy will always live in our hearts and minds as the kind, caring and beautiful woman she grew to be. She always reminded me so much of her loving and beautiful mother Angie. They shared so many distinct mannerisms and ways of speaking and by looks there was never a doubt who was Angie's precious little girl. But for those of us who grew-up together so very many of us in those wonderful Euclid neighborhoods Kathy was always the cute, little, skinny gymnast girl with never ending energy and so much joy in her heart. No doubt inherited from her strong and loving Grandma Zovino and always, always nurtured by her warm, affectionate family. Kathy spent so many sunny summer days playing and calling out to us “Hey watch this” she would then leap into a full speed running start that culminated into the fastest, longest and most exceptional cartwheels that I had ever seen. She will always be that magnificent little girl to me, traveling the entire neighborhood by cartwheel alone. It was after all her preferred form of transportation. She knew every building on those streets, right-side up and upside-down. It breaks my heart that I cannot physically be there to help support those that she and I love so very much. But you can be sure I am with you in prayer now and every day I take a breath. But so much more importantly you can trust forever that the great love and grace of Christ Himself is there with you. It is all with you and there for the asking so please, please reach out to Him as He now holds Kathy in His arms completely healed, restored and full of unimaginable joy and contentment. I have learned from a life of extreme peaks and valleys that Christ will never forsake us when we trust and believe in him alone. It is with all of my love I write this to those I love so very much. “ Insana-Hoag families: Words are not enough to express how sorry we are for your loss. Bryce has told us what a beautiful woman Kathy was. Cesily, James, Matt: We are praying for you to get through this time with the peace that comes from the knowledge that God loves you and that He will take care of you. Your Mom's/Stepmom's wisdom will always be with you. Focus on her memory and any lessons you can glean from the time you shared together. Listen, acknowledge and allow it to guide you. Jim: Let memories of the times you two shared give you comfort for Kathy's life was rich because of you. We are praying for your strength and comfort at this time. Remember, those we love who pass away live in us through our memories and our character. Our deepest condolences, Bryce's family--Julie, Brian, and Breanna Humbarger
