“ I'm actually surprised there aren't more comments on here because she was known & loved by so many people. Maybe people didn't realize that they could comment and or put memories here. Also there were so many people who were posting and commenting on Facebook maybe they figured that was just as good and it is. 💜 We love & miss you so much. It's been 16 days since you left us & moved on to your next life (heaven or wherever it is that we go when we leave our physical bodies) & I am so lost without you here. I know that you are in a better place. I know that you don't have to suffer anymore. 🦋 I know that you don't have to fight that battle anymore 🦋 I know that all your pain, fear, anxiety & depression are gone but that does not make it any easier & it doesn't make it hurt any less. What I would give to see you one more time, to have one more conversation with you, to hug you so tight & tell you how much I love you & tell you what a beautiful blessing you were in my life & tell you how proud I was & always will be of you & tell you that I am honored that your soul chose me to be your mom & how grateful I am that God blessed me & let me be your mother & tell you how truly sorry I am that I wasn't a better mother to you cuz you deserved the best & I pray that wherever you are now you have the best of everything.... I'm hearing that you have visited a few people in their dreams at least I think they were dream visits. I don't know I guess it's possible that it wasn't a visit and they were just dreaming about you but I've been praying and asking and begging you to come and give me a dream visit. Kayla please baby girl please visit me tonight. the last two days there's been a couple times where I just stopped what I'm doing completely stop in my tracks and just look around me because I feel like I don't know I guess I'm feeling like maybe your presence is near me or your spirit is around me I just wish I knew for sure that you're spirit is able to visit us and watch over us I love you so much baby girl 🙏 Rest In Peace Momma's Beautiful BabyGirl 🙏 🦋 Always on my mind forever in my heart is where you will be until we meet again 🦋 Keep dancing in the sky pretty girl, I know you're the most beautiful angel 😊 that heaven has received

“ The last thing I heard Kayla say is I just love you Roxie, I will never forget that. I will never forget the conversations we shared, you were always coming to talk. Your dream was to work with children and I believe that’s what you are doing in Heaven! I just love you Kayla 💕

“ Kayla I will never forget when you were about 8 or 9 years old and we went to Disney world and the only reason we ended up doing that is because that's where the place was that your older sister Breanna had to go to try out for "The" for modeling singing and acting so great grandma said we should go for a few extra days and take advantage of the opportunity and go to Disney world we had so much fun but besides that I remember the day that Bree had to try out for I think it was a commercial or something and we're sitting in this room with about a hundred other parents for hours and it's hot as hell and everybody's pissed off & crabby & in a bad mood. Then you decide to get up and just start walking around talking to people starting conversations and then you get up on this little stage thing they had in there and start telling jokes and stories and start singing & dancing and just being you how you've always been and you changed the moods & attitudes of the entire room. you made everyone forget how miserable they were and I said now she should have been the one to try out. that was a gift you've always had. you were always one of a kind, an old spirit, a lover not a fighter. you were always the peacemaker and the life of the party and you would walk up to anybody & start a conversation. I am overwhelmed with sadness & joy at the same time by all the love & support that I have seen from all the people who knew and loved you I mean you knew everybody and I knew that but wow it's even more than I thought. you have touched so many people's lives and been there for so many people even if they didn't deserve it, if somebody needed you you were there & I am so grateful and blessed that God chose me (& I believe you chose me as well) to be your mom. you have taught me so much and you have been a blessing in my life you have brought so much joy and happiness into my life I don't know how I'm going to go on without you. I have to believe like you're big sister said that God must have needed you for something bigger up there and that's why you had to leave us so young it's still not fair and it doesn't make it any easier and I do believe that you're purpose here on earth even though it was cut so short was to leave an everlasting impression on every single person you came across because you have! You will forever be loved and missed and I will never let your spirit or memory fade. You are my baby girl and I pray that I get you back in my next life. You don't have to fight anymore no more pain no more struggle so fly high with the angels and I hope you're dancing in the sky always on my mind and forever in my heart is where you will be until we meet again my baby girl

“ I will never forget that smile of yours. I watched you grow from that sweet little girl into an amazing young woman. Through adversity, you found strength, nothing could stop you! I will forever admire your courage, your kindness, and your “never give up” attitude! The girls and I are heartbroken. Rest in heaven my darling.

“ If we’re talking memories i could write a million pages worth. But here’s one in one of these photos of when the leg of my chair was broke and you didn’t know so you went to sit on it and fell and that shit was hilarious lol. I miss you baby sister. I’ll never understand why you had to go so soon. I guess god found you to be extra special but that’s no surprise because you are, so unique, so kind, so authentic. I have never met another person like you and I know I never will. This is a nightmare and it will be for the rest of my life. You are so loved big bird.
