“ My son Jeffrey also attended North High and was in some of John Uncapher's classes also.

I am so sorry for your loss and hope that the Lord's comfort and blessings be with you all in this time of sorrow. I will pray for Kevin and the family.

“ Dear Lori and Family,

There are really no words I can say during this difficult time for your family, other than I am so very sorry. But I would like to tell you what Kevin meant to me, and maybe somehow, you will find this comforting.

Lori, I meant every word I said every time we talked about Kevin, and my heart is broken for you and your family. I know how proud you were of all of Kevin's accomplishments, and although I only knew him a short time, I know he was one of those very special people sent to us from above, if even to make us feel special for a moment.

Kevin was so intelligent, handsome, polite, considerate, funny, and, most of all, kind. At 18 years old, he made it a point to find me on my first day of work to welcome me to the company, and to tell me that although he probably didn't know too many answers to any questions I may have, he would be glad to help me in any way possible. Kevin, my heart tells me you knew things in your short life that I will never know. That meeting touched my heart then, and now more than ever. You were a special man, and you will be deeply missed. My heart is so heavy right now, just thinking about our brief encounters.

Lori and John, you raised a top-notch man in a difficult world. Lori, the love in your eyes when you spoke of how proud you were of Kevin's accomplishments was so obvious. Thank you for nurturing such a fine man--I'm sure I'm not the only person he touched in his young life.

Lori, if you ever need anything, even a friend in the middle of the night, please let me know. I am praying for you and for your family.

With sincere sympathy,

Marianne

“ Words cannot begin to ease the pain or sorrow that has engulfed you and your family; however, please know that each and everyone of you are in our thoughts, hearts and prayers and that we are all here for you - whatever the need may be.

Kevin will be deeply missed by all of us who's lives he magically touched. He was a bright, thoughtful, loving, caring, witty, outgoing, friendly young man who brightened each of our days and made us all laugh.
