“ When I meet Lisa, she was a little flower girl in her bothers wedding. She followed me around and wanted to be a photographer. She not only became a photographer but she owned a Lab also and she was a master at photoshop, digital, black and white, color photography. She was a hard worker, no one knew her pain. She always had that SMILE and ambition that things would be OK. Her loves of her life where Family, CHILDREN, HUSBAND, PARENTS,BROTHERS,NIECES,NEPHEWS. Lisa, Melody, and I went to lunch in Febuary and did not know she was this sick. God Love That Girl. We LOVE you Lisa.

“ I knew Lisa as the great photographer she was. Always so friendly and cooperative. When she was the photographer at a wedding where my band was playing - I always knew we were in for a great night as she would work well with me and we'd dial everything in. I can't believe she's gone so young. God has a new angel in heaven.
