“ Opening the home and hearts to a stranger; that's not easy! In fact it takes courage, confidence, an open mind and a lot of love. That's how I got to know Pat Kiefer and her family almost 20 years ago.

I still remember how bright and joyful her smile was when we met for the very first time. On the way home from the airport Pat started to understand that I barely spoke English and she immediately adapted. Remembering the very many conversations and we laughs we had, she taught me so many things. She gave me comfort and made me feel safe in so many different ways. She had so much love to share.

I feel blessed having met this wonderful inspiring woman, teacher and mother.

Someone this special can never be forgotten.
