“ The most powerful memory I have of my Pa is the time they came out to Colorado to see me dance as Myrta in Giselle. Big deal, to me. It must have been to him too, because this was on his bucket list of things to do, when they had given him 1 year to live. That was 20 years ago. I remember them taking me out to a fancy dinner after(as we liked to do) and just taking it all in. Relishing the moment. Soaking them up in case I never got to see him again. I wanted to learn as much as I could about this wonderful man while I still could. It taught me so much about gratitude and not taking things for granted. I love you Pa. You and grandma both will always be a part of me. Hugs and kisses.
Love-always, your darling granddaughter, Kelly
