“ This journey continues only now with fond memories of mom. I feel like I've relived much of her life over the past few days from viewing photo albums, reminiscing about her with my girls and continuing to celebrate my mother's life. I will be forever grateful not only for the life she has given me but for the many lessons we shared in the time we spent together. She is one of a kind that doesn't give up, looks for the best in all situations, and believes if you have God you have it all. There is a time and place for everything and our time with her on earth has come to an end but our spirits will be together for eternity. She has given birth for the last time: to heaven. I know she will follow us all to the end of our earthly journey until we can look into her eyes again. Until then let us live and laugh. God bless.
