“ My memories of Ronnie are as a teenager and his family enveloped my little Jamie as a baby into their world. Ronnie was a loving and caring babysitter to Jamie. I remember particularly coming home one day after classes to find Ronnie and Jamie very excited because Jamie had at long last taken her first baby steps. Ronnie had been trying to get Jamie to walk as she was long beyond the age that most start to walk. His joy was infectious. I will never forget how good he was.
