“ We'll always remember our strong little uncle with the big hug and the bigger smile. Nothing seemed to stop him. My sister Barb and I always picture him at Cleveland Clinic getting his bone marrow transfer and lifting one of those heavy visitors chairs while still attached to an IV and carrying it down the hall to the visitors room. Seems like he could take on anyone. He and Annie took such good care of each other, even at the tops of their voices. We miss them both very much.- Love Rosemary and Lew
