“ The first thing to be said about Tim, is what an amazing father he was. He was a great husband, and a great friend. He was laid back, and could get along with everyone. He would help anyone who needed it and I knew I could always count on him for help. We had some great times, a lot of laughs, and I will never forget our pranks. He was not only good to his own kids, but his nieces and nephews as well. My kids called him uncle and will miss him greatly. We will keep him in our hearts and memories as one of the best men we have had the pleasure of knowing.

“ To Tim's wife, children and family. I've known Tim since we were 9 years old. We played on multiple baseball teams and basketball teams together. Even though we never really spoke much after high school. Just some trash talk about sports or random sports talk, he was still a good friend. Until recently, around the birth of my daughter, we spoke more frequently. With most of it being about our children. I can see and feel the excitement whenever he spoke of his 3 kids. He told me to enjoy it, because they grow up so quick. He was a very proud father, and he expressed it constantly. When I heard the news, it just didn't seem real. I'm praying for you guys. Rest peacefully my old friend.
